LOCAL MAN'S KIN BURNED AT STAKE

GAME ENDS IN DEATH OF BOY

A childish game of "Indians" yesterday morning resulted in the death of a Seattle boy, according to United Press dispatches from Seattle. The boy is Phillip Epstein, nephew of Louis Epstein, 231 Eleventh street, Richmond.

According to the press dispatches, the boy and a group of playmates were playing "Indian" in a vacant lot. They engaged in a mimic war with the group split into two "tribes." The two bands of "warriors" battled furiously, with imaginary arrows and battle axes whirling through the air amid the shrieks of the "dying" warriors.

Then the "battle" cleared. Captives were counted and the "dead" were mourned.

The Epstein boy was among the "captives." A consultation was held by the victors. A decision was reached. "The boy must die." Gravely they led the "prisoner" to the stake, a fence post. He was loosely bound to the post while kindling was piled around his feet.

The "victors" lighted torches and around the bound "captive" they danced, singing their songs of victory.

In some manner, one of the boys dropped a flaming torch upon the pile of faggots. Before they could move, the flames caught young Epstein's clothing and in a second he was ablaze.

Screaming, the boy broke the ropes that tied him to the post and ran while his horror-stricken companions were helpless to save him.

Mrs. E. F. Coughlin, a neighbor, saw the blazing child go past her house. She ran after him and with a sweater slapped out the fire, being burned in the attempt.

The child was taken to an emergency hospital for treatment but he was dead before he arrived there.

Epstein, who is employed by a local tailor, left Richmond last night for the north where he will attend the funeral services for the boy.

CONSULATE BOMB BLAST

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(U.P.)—Explosion of a federal air bomb in the United States consulate at Ciudad Obregon, Sonora, Mexico, was reported to the state department today by Vice Consul Eaton, who said neither he nor the employees were injured.

Three federal planes appeared over the city which was occupied by rebel troops, on April 25, Eaton said.

Three bombs were dropped, one of them exploding in front of the consulate and another falling through the roof to explode inside. Doors were blown out and all within the consulate were covered by dust, but otherwise unharmed.

At the time of the air raid Eaton was drafting a routine report to Secretary of State Stimson. The explosion interrupted the work a bit, but Eaton resumed adding the story of the bombs as the last paragraph of his report.

WHAT AGAIN? NEW AIMEE PROBE

SACRAMENTO, April 27.—(U.P.)—Another chapter in the famous three-year-old mystery, "What Happened to Aimee?" was at a conclusion here tonight, but this has not yet been written in the case it was indicated.

Although Judge Carlos S. Hardy's acquittal of impeachment charges brought in connection with the "kidnapping" of Aimee Semple McPherson, the entire investigation may be reopened again in Los Angeles.

Earlier assailed by the red-headed woman preacher, "who charged publicly was the hidden motive of the assembly prosecution who were on record as the 'believing that ample proof now exists of conspiracy.'"

Information from Assemblyman Walter Little and William Hornblower that they would be willing to turn over to District Attorneyorney Bern Fitz of Los Angeles all evidence collected in connection with the impeachment trial brought forth new outbursts from the evangelist.

"This action indicates the purpose of the entire proceedings," she declared shortly before departing for Los Angeles.

Whether further criminal proceedings will be taken and Mrs. McPherson again brought into court to hear charges of an alleged kidnapping here perpetrated to hide an alleged trip to a "love nest" at Carmel with her radio meritor Kenneth G. Orin, now rest with District Attorney Fitz.

The probe conducted by former District Attorney Asa Kever now awaiting an appeal on conviction of receiving bribes, was dropped in 1926 as the result of testimony of Mrs. Lillian Welton-Schaff, who asserted the evangelist was not the "Miss X" of Carmel.

At the impeachment trial Mrs. Schaff charged her story and alleged that she had been hired to produce a "Miss X." She accused Judge Hardy of aiding her in securing another woman to make affidavits that latter occupied the "love nest" with Orin.

If the case were reopened much would depend upon the testimony of Mrs. Schaff and the charges made by former Deputy District Attorney Joseph Ryan, of Los Angeles, that he was never permitted to introduce evidence collected in the course of his investigation.

Pinole Man Faces Court

MARTINEZ, April 27.—While awaiting a hearing into her alleged improper deportment in her home at Pinole, Jennie Wheeler, 32, gave Deputy Sheriff Clyde Laird, Constable A. McDonald of Pinole and the district attorney's office many anxious minutes.

She was later found hiding in the women's rest room at the Southern Pacific depot. It had been her plan, she told authorities, to board a train due there in a few minutes and to keep the official waiting indefinitely.

The woman was given her choice of leaving the town of Pinole or standing trial and she decided to quit the town.

Joe Teixeira, 31, of Rodeo, arrested with the woman on a vagrancy charge was held for further investigation.

The home is situated 75 miles north of San Francisco, just beyond Santa Rosa. The equipment includes an administration building, 14 cottages, nursery, hospital, school, chapel, 647 acres of farm land, modern farm buildings and a 160 acre cattle range.

CITIES PERILED BY NEW BREAKS IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER LEVEES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—(U.P.)—New levee breaks along the Mississippi river with the crest of muddy waters still to come, gave rise tonight of fears of another disastrous flood.

Hundreds of workers manned the sudden and undermined dikes in an effort to turn back the flood waters with sand bags, willow mats and stones.

The latest breaks in the levee system that walls the "Father of Waters" from Iowa to the Gulf, came late today at South Grand Tower, near Murphysboro, Ill., when a dike crumbled under constant pounding of rising waters and river spread out over 7000 acres of farm land.

Shortly after that break came reports of another from Grand Tower. This report said a breach was opened in a dike south of the big muddy river.

In the patch of floods from the break was the Matine district, 20,000 acres, which was hard hit in the big flood of 1927.

Deprived by reports of a new rise racing down the Mississippi levee guards patrolled their posts in Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Northern Kentucky and Arkansas, on lookout for sand bags and crumbling banks. Around Quincy, Illinois, 5000 acres already were under water, and homeless farmers camped on the bluffs waiting for the water to recede. Water had crept within five feet of the business district of Hannibal, Mo., with home owners' flooded and residents fearing the rise would send the flood over the city.

Friends See Vote Victory For Martin

From the moment he received the inside campaign card last night, E. A. Martin, for reelection, has been a successful man.

Martin is just completing an unexpected term to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late Frank A. Scholtes.

In the time that he has served as a member of the council, he has been very active, and has gained an insight into the business of city government that is valuable to the taxpayers.

In his canvass of the city, he has reached to every section, and the assurances he has received have been very flattering.

Martin completes his canvass without having made any promises to any particular body, except that he states that his entire efforts will be for the advancement of the city, and the betterment of its residents.

HOOVER AND THE LAW

The organizer who has become president of the United States shows a gift of imagination in his summary of the law observance situation. That which appeals to him as a man trained in evaluating facts by comparison, and contrasts, by statistics and by graphic representations, seems to have stimulated in him an ability to see this problem as an engineer should. He lays before the annual meeting of the Associated Press the facts, he points out the trend of events and he proposes his solution.

Back of all the present difficulty lies the indifference of the citizen. Busied with his own affairs, striving to succeed in his work or his business, the average man likes to be touched as lightly as possible by his government. He has few enough contacts with it, and often he manages to lessen their number. We would say that the places at which the run of men come in relationship with government are three-fold:

1. As a voter.
2. As a taxpayer.
3. As a juror.

It used to be that all the substantial men of a community were more or less directly concerned as unofficial enforcers of the common rules of behavior. But with increasing complexity in our organization, the actual law enforcing duties have been placed in the hands of specialists and political appointees.

Everyone knows the vote is never 100 per cent, and is seldom much over 50 per cent of the amount made possible by the qualification of electors. Of the three duties of citizens, that of voting is the one most vital and the one easiest to evade.

The taxpayer is a marked man. He struggles against too high charges, but he seldom does it as earnestly as do those organized minorities who are always ready to plunge the state, or nation into new financial obligations.

Jury duty, the third important contribution of the citizen in peace time, is systematically avoided by all those who have the largest stake in their community. It is easy for a businessman and for many professional men to obtain excuses, and that leaves to less interested persons the task of backing up the law. It should be noted with grave concern that our system provides no hired man of the county shall make the decision as to whether defendant shall go to prison or pay a fine; that decision rests solely with citizens. The same democratic ideal prevailed in General Crowder's method of drafting men for the war. Citizens, not officers of the government, made the selections.

Court procedure requires fundamental revision; jury commissioners should be charged with the work of keeping the lists so that there would be not such spectacle as that of a panel containing the names of dozens of deceased or removed citizens.

As to the press it should accept President Hoover's suggestion. We all know how easily influenced weak minds are by suggestion. Every day there are examples of wrongful acts committed in a spirit of smart aleckry or with the notion that a fatuous public will condone. When it is consistently represented to all that the way of the transgressor is indeed hard, then the press will have made a real contribution toward the solution of our chief problem.

The democratic party is not dead, but four more years away from the pie counter will give it that boyish figger so much in vogue.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

It is strange commentary that the head never begins to swell until the brain stops growing.—Atlanta Constitution.

Colonel Lindbergh offers the first instance of public acclaim being given to a one-arm driver.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

NEW ROADSTER DISPLAYED BY CHRYSLER

Unique in design, its kindly individual, graceful and sporty appearance, a new Chrysler Imperial roadster is now being shown to the public by Chrysler dealers in all sections of the country.

"Particularly timely in its introduction, for summer and autumn are the best seasons for motoring, this new roadster will not only be well received but will create general interest wherever it is seen," says Harry Curry, head Chrysler dealer.

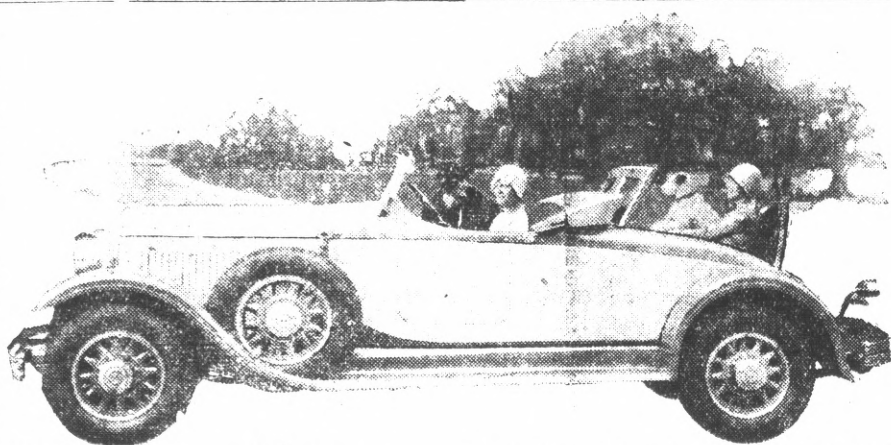

The design of the body, which is by Locke, is notably different from any of its predecessors in the Imperial series. The top line of the body extends back in a straight line to the cowl, where it slopes into a beautiful curve over the door and then up across the raised section of the back of the seat cushion. The section of the upper portion of the back and the lower portion from the hood to the rear fender, in a sweeping curve, is a new style note that adds added distinction to the Imperial's smoothness and individuality.

An innovation sure to be found to the liking of passengers riding in the spacious rumble compartment, is a provision that, when not in use, folds down and covers as the forward section of the rear deck. Easy access to this rear compartment is afforded by a door on the right side.

This new Imperial roadster is powered by the famous Chrysler Silver Dome engine. It is equipped with such features as rear view mirror, chrome-plated fowl hand and foot levers, folding rear windshield with chrome-plated stanchions and frame, non-shatterable glass in both forward and rear windshields, bumpers in front and rear, top hat, flush rear ventilators in each side of cool radiator shutter, and automatic windshield cleaner.

"In designing and building this roadster the company has made it an outstanding example of Chrysler craftsmanship not only in mechanical excellence but in design, appearance, beauty and economy value," comments Curry, who adds that the new Imperial roadster is a strikingly different and excellent expression of smoothness

Beauties In This Model

SMARTNESS of line is stressed by the new Chrysler Imperial roadster with body by Locke. Features of the new sports roadster include a rumble seat windshield and rumble seat door at curb permitting easy entrance to this compartment.

SAFETY RULES ISSUED BY CLUB

California's motor touring season will soon be under way and mountain roads will again be carrying their summer burden of traffic. Many motorists will escape trips into the mountains who are inexperienced in driving roads with many turns and long grades, and the public safety department of the California State Automobile association issues the following suggestions in this connection.

Shift your gears at the bottom of the grade before starting up if possible.

Take no chances on the down grade if you don't know the road. Shift your gears to first or second gear and let compression hold you back.

The practice of keeping the car in high and using the brake on the down grade should be discouraged. If the brakes give way, the motorist is without protection.

In working your car on the upgrade leave the gears engaged in low speed after you have turned off your engine. If parking on the downgrade, leave it in reverse. Some drivers carry a piece of wood or a rock large enough to block the wheels on a steep grade.

Keep well to the right and sound your horn on the turns. Check the water frequently in your radiator when driving in the mountains. Have the crank case full of good fresh oil before you start.

Don't throw your car into neutral and coast on the grades. It is not only extremely dangerous but unlawful.

Use Wrench On Car With Care

It was the last straw that broke the camel's back, and it is very apt to be the last pull on the wrench that will strip the threads or cause the breaking of that bolt, warns L. G. Evans, general service manager, National Automobile club. Do not use an unnecessarily large wrench in the tightening of a bolt the extra length of handle supplies undue leverage.

STUDEBAKER CO IN PRAISE OF NEWSPAPERS

The outstanding position of the American newspaper as a modern merchandising is reflected in a recent statement by J. M. Cleary, general sales manager of the Studebaker corporation of America, which has begun the great advertising campaign in its history. According to Cleary, more than one half of the corporation's record-breaking appropriation for advertising in 1929 has been scheduled for expenditure by newspapers.

"Newspapers have played a large part in the amazing growth of the automobile industry," said Cleary. "This is particularly true in the case of the Studebaker corporation, which has consistently been one of the largest users of newspaper space."

"Studebaker's new cars, this year called for a merchandising campaign as up to date and modern as the cars themselves. Accordingly Studebaker became the first manufacturer to make extensive use of the possibilities of the motion picture and created a sound picture which is entertaining scores of thousands of motorists."

"The climax of the motion picture, which is entitled 'Champions,' is the finish of the President's run of 30,000 miles in 26,326 minutes at the Atlantic City speedway."

In this run the President Eight established eleven world records as well as twenty-three international class records and a virtual monopoly of American stock car records. The reproduction in sound of the exciting scenes at the track has been called the most vivid and exciting dramatization of an automobile speed race ever made.

"Supporting its other activities, the corporation of radio entertainment broadcast every Sunday evening from coast to coast over stations associated with the National Automobile club. This program offers modern symphonic arrangements, and sprightly tunes by a 30-piece orchestra under the direction of Jean Goldkette. Within a very brief time the Studebaker 'Champions' program has become one of the most popular features on the air."

State May Have Countless Cars In Year Of 1939

How many automobiles will be in use in California in 1939?

This interesting speculation is suggested by the heavy increase in motor vehicles during the past ten years in the state. The California State Automobile association has compiled a list of registrations with the percentage of increase each year during the past decade, and if this ratio is kept up it will mean that there will be as many cars in the state ten years hence as the state has population now.

At the close of 1918, there were 293,864 registrations in the state. At the close of 1928 there were 1,895,432. This is an increase of 372 percent for the ten year period.

The smallest increase in any one of these years was five percent in 1927. The largest increase was 26 percent in 1919. The average increase for each year was 15.5 percent.

For many years statisticians, economists, sales experts and others figured that the saturation point for motor vehicles would be reached when there was one to every family averaging five persons to the family. This point was reached in California several years ago but the increase in cars steadily continues. Two car families are numerous and there are many families that have a car for each member.

Motor car manufacturers are enthusiastically predicting that 1929 will be the greatest year in history for the industry. It is expected that 5,000,000 new cars will be turned out. Most of these are expected to be absorbed by the population in the United States which already has about 78 percent of the motor vehicles in the world.

Autos Enemy Of Family Dog

The Massachusetts society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is seeking to solve the problem of protecting dogs against their most un-natural enemy—the automobile. A prize of $250, states the National Automobile club, is being offered for the best answer to the question, "How can a dog be humanely, and at the same time effectively, trained to guard itself from injury by the automobile?" An average of two dogs daily, maimed or fatally injured by automobiles, are brought into the society's Angel Memorial Animal hospital, in Boston. The offer of this contest is nationwide. Answers are limited to fifteen hundred words.

GREATER than ever—and that, in a Studebaker Commander, is achievement indeed! Yet today's Commander is a greater car than its illustrious predecessor—which sped 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes in heroic proof of its speed and staying power.

Now, as suave straight-eight or brilliant six, The Commander by Studebaker, Builder of Champions, provides a new-day grace and beauty as a setting for its superb performance. Youthful and smart, the new Studebaker coachcraft splendidly interprets the fleetness and endurance of the new Commanders.

The new Commanders are lower, due to a costlier double-drop frame. Ball bearing spring suspension, pioneered by Studebaker, provides still further ease, because of new type hydraulic shock absorbers and deep-sprung cushioning. Safety is enhanced by lowness, greater road-steadiness at high speed, non-shatterable windshield, steel core steering wheel, and amplified-action brakes that insure a velvet stop in half the distance accepted as standard.

Straight-eight or six, the new Commander is a worthy heir to the world-wide fame of the name it bears. Drive it an hour—or a day. Its mettle will win you.

NEW BUICK MODEL WILL ENTER LOW PRICED AUTOMOBILE FIELD

Rumors current in national automotive circles during the past few weeks to the effect that Buick, for the past quarter of a century in the automobile producing field, would soon enter the low priced field with a companion car have been confirmed in an announcement just issued by E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor company and received yesterday by C. C. Kratzer, local Buick dealer.

"In response to an increasing world demand for motor cars, the Buick Motor company will shortly augment its line of automobiles by the addition of a new car in the lower priced field," commenced the Buick executive's announcement.

To Be L-Head Six

"Now from the ground up—new even in name—this car will bring to the public a degree of performance, stamina, smartness and comfort which Buick's quarter century of fine car engineering and fine car production alone makes possible at such a price. The new product will have no effect on the future design and quality of the Buick car. In type it will be an L-head six. It will be sold through the Buick retail sales organization."

"Unlimited Appeal"

"In the preparation of this new automobile it has been the aim of the Buick Motor company to design a car of unlimited appeal—a car that will be within the reach of millions and yet deliver quality car performance. Realizing that having two or even three cars in a single family is fast becoming common practice in America, the Buick Motor company believes that the high quality and moderate price of its new product will be a determining influence in supplying the demand of the new motor-conscious American family."

Motorists Should Practice Driving

Almost anyone can "step on the gas" remarks L. G. Evans, general service manager for the National Automobile club, but it requires an experienced driver to maintain a driving efficiency which prolongs the life of the car and assures comfort to the passengers. Practice driving methodically and efficiently at low as well as high speeds.

Far, Far, Away From Home

TOURING FRANCE in a Chevrolet six landau is a part of the pleasures of William Ross Knudsen, Chevrolet parts and service manager for the northwestern district of the Western States. The car is parked in front of a cafe in Sorbonne, France.

Increased engine power, nineteen per cent greater than in last years Pontiac, together with other changes in the engine and chassis, provide thrilling snap and acceleration, flexibility and response judged solely by big car standards.

Paralleling the new performance of the power plant are bodies that measure up to the specifications of those on cars far above the low price class. Over all length has been increased to 167 inches, and bodies are wider to add to the comfort of passengers, making the Pontiac Big Six comparable in size to those of the medium priced group.

Interior fittings are in keeping with the larger outside dimensions, hardware of special design, deep and comfortable upholstery, adjustable driver's seats, and many other interior conveniences making for a luxurious and rich-appearing car.

CHEVROLET SIX DEALER SEES ACTION

Lying prone in a Berlin cafe and trying desperately to burrow into the floor for four hours at a stretch, while whining and zipping machine gun bullets gnaw at the chair legs and make ground glass of the tableware is not exactly a situation conducive to developing brotherly love, but William Ross Knudsen, zone parts and service manager of the Chevrolet Motor company at Portland, who experienced this thriller and escaped unhurt, had not trouble in applying the golden rule, even under such conditions, according to word received here by the Golden Rule Chevrolet sales company.

In fact, Knudsen's conduct is governed by two rules. One is the well known golden rule and the other is the slide rule, or "slip stick" in engineering parlance. He is an authority on engineering and other scientific subjects. In China, Spain, Germany, Italy and numerous other countries he has found himself in the center of many revolutions, but escaped unhurt. Perhaps his knowledge of r. p. m. saved him. He has sold machinery in every important port of the world.

Knudsen is a native Californian and was graduated some years ago from the university of California in mechanical engineering. His forebears were Frisians, natives of the tiny Frisian group of islands in the North sea. Helgoland is one of these islands. Frisians are another. Prior to 1886 this group furnished the world with halibut sea captains. Virtually all Frisians are navigators and mathematicians. They are a wandering lot, Knudsen, up to the time he joined forces with the Chevrolet Motor company was one of their champion ramblers. He has been around a bit, as the saying goes. His desire to go places and see things took early form. In 1909 he was champion roller skater of the world and way points.

Many Adventures
His travels and adventures read like a volume of the wildest fiction. He built the first railway locomotive manufacturing plant in Russia. One of his treasured possessions is a beautifully designed cigar lighter, made by hand and presented to him by the Russian Soviet government as a memento of his stay in what was once the land of the Czars. Mrs. Knudsen accompanied him to Russia and was the first American woman in the country following the Bolshevik uprising, according to Knudsen.

He was in Italy when the Black Shirts under Mussolini took command. He arrived in Spain as conditions were growing hot following the debacle of the Spanish army in Morocco. One of his adventures while in Berlin during the uprising following the collapse of the German imperial regime has already been recorded. He was in the Ruhr district when the disturbances arising as a result of the French occupation were at their height.

No! all of his traveling has been done in countries where artillery shells crash in the main streets and machine guns spew their lethal messengers of death through the public squares. Knudsen was for a long period a member of the University of Pennsylvania expedition into Babylonia and Syria and took a prominent part in the translation of hieroglyphics and cuneiform inscriptions in the hands of faded glory. His slide rule stood him in good stead during this trip, and he used it extensively.

Coupled with his engineering abilities, Knudsen also qualifies as an astronomer of note. He built the spectroscopic in use at Lick Observatory in California and designed the micrometer appliance which was used to score 500,000 lines to the inch. The spectroscopic, the device which he built to score these lines cost $30,000 along.

What does all this knowledge all this travel, all this experience profit a man in the Chevrolet parts and service business? Knudsen was asked.

"Inmeasurably," he replied. "The automobile business today is a highly specialized calling. There was a time when it was a more or less hit and miss proposition, but that day is past. Parts and service work in the Chevrolet motor company requires analytical treatment and a knowledge of mechanics and mathematics is of great assistance to anyone engaged in it. Such is the case with me, at any rate."

Clean Tires Of Small Articles

A careful inspection of your tires will undoubtedly disclose a generous and varied assortment of small objects which become imbedded in the rubber, states L. G. Evans, general service manager for the National Automobile club. These small particles of stone or glass may gradually work through the fabric and cause a puncture. All cuts of large size should be filled with "tire cough" to prevent the seepage of water.

Car Grease Cups Should Be Clean

Before filling a grease cup be certain that all dirt is wiped from the outside of the cup to prevent any small particles of grease being carried to the part to be lubricated, warns L. G. Evans, general service manager for the National Automobile club. This same warning applies to wiping the nipples of the high-pressure fittings of Alemite and similar systems, with its attendant rapid deterioration.

Shut Off Gas In Car Blaze

In case of a fire under the hood, the first thought should be to shut off the gas supply at the vacuum tank, if possible. If the fire is in the ignition system, the only remedy is to disconnect the connection at the battery. When fighting a fire under the hood by means of a fire extinguisher, never raise the hood. Play the stream of extinguisher through the hood slits.

A second message to a most important group of motor car buyers . .

The New Pontiac Big Six and the purpose behind it have captured public approval. Its big car luxury and style have aroused enthusiasm. Its big car performance has won respect. And the fact that it provides these big car qualities at such low cost has resulted in an unprecedented volume of orders. The New Pontiac Big Six is an unequalled success. Before the close of the present year, hundreds of thousands of progressive Americans will be enjoying big car advantages at low cost. It will pay you to come in and investigate the car which has made this possible.

RED HOT SPEED BEST FILM BY DENNY

Without a doubt "Red Hot Speed" starring Reginald Denny, at the Fox-California theater today and tomorrow is the funniest thing Carl Laemmle's favorite comedian has turned out for many months.

The idea of the picture is ingenious and entirely new for the screen. It's such an obviously clever idea that it's a wonder it hasn't been done before. The story concerns an assistant district attorney attacked to the speedster's court. He gets into trouble as a result of his public denunciation of a beautiful young speedster. The judge possessed of a rare judicial sense of humor, parades the young lady in his custody. There are lots of reasons why she doesn't want her father, a newspaper editor, to know that she was arrested, so she gives a false name.

Well, anyway, that gives you the idea around which Director Joseph Henabery has constructed a delightful romantic farce comedy. Reginald Denny is perfect in the part and Alice Day, as the youthful speedster, adds greatly to the attractiveness and humor of the photoplay.

Charles Eyer is very good and Thomas Ricketts is splendid. Phil Ricketts adds one of the "largest" portions to the humor in her role as the little slavey who pretends she is the speedster to fool papa.

'Close Harmony' Stars Realize Earlier Dreams

"My, I wanna be an engineer." Many a child has thus expressed the youthful ambitions of his dreams. Actors, when they were children, had glorious visions of what they would be when they "grew up" but there are only a few who have realized their aims. Adolphe Menjou, for instance, wanted to be a civil engineer. Emil Jennings wanted to be a sailor. Chester Conklin aspired to be a stiver-tongued orator. "Buddy" Rogers is one who has realized his childhood desires. He wanted to be the leader of a jazz orchestra and play all the instruments himself. He does just that in the forthcoming Paramount production, "Close Harmony," which opens at the Fox-California theater Tuesday for a three day run.

It is an all-talking singing and dancing play from the story of backstage life written by Elsie Janis and Gene Markey. "Buddy" has the featured male role of a jazz band leader and he plays solos on trombone, drums, saxophone and trumpet.

Nancy Carroll, flaming red-headed beauty, plays the other leading role in the film, that of a song and dance headliner. When she was a child she wanted to be just what she is in "Close Harmony," a young woman whose songs would be heard round the world.

After two and a half hours of play, Miss Dunning clinched the game with scores of 7-5, 5-7 and 8-6.

Little Betty Hunn won the finals of the girls' elementary matches by defeating Miss Phyllis Tandy 6-4 and 6-4. Miss Hunn will be awarded a felt emblem by the Richmond tennis club.

C. E. GROUP TO GIVE PROGRAM

One of the most novel shows in years is expected to be presented at the Richmond clubhouse Tuesday night at eight o'clock by the Keystone Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church.

"Please Stand By" is the title of the presentation which is called a "radio operetta." More than 35 persons will take part in the event.

The show is under the direction of Mrs. Fred Cooper, Mrs. Fred Newson and C. E. Westwood. Tickets are now being sold by members of the society.

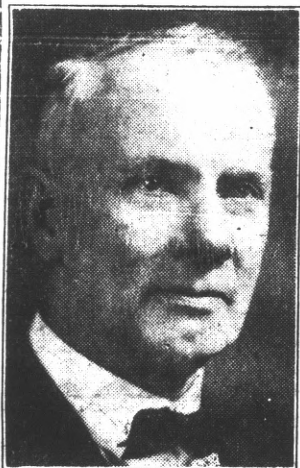

Christian Science Lesson Subject

"Production after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon today in all churches of Christ-Science, branches of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon includes the following from the Bible: "Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory" (1 Cor. 15:50, 53, 54).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sin brought death, and death will disappear with the disappearance of sin. Man is immortal, and the body cannot die, because matter has no life to surrender. The human concepts named matter, death, disease, sickness, and sin are all that can be destroyed." (p. 426.)

RICHMOND— IS MOVING INTO HIGH GEAR!

Things are happening in Richmond.

1. This city has been named a port of call by one steamship line, and others are planning to send their ships here and put Richmond in their tariff sheets. The city has been placed on a basis comparable with other bay cities by dravage and barge companies. Big tonnage will soon be moving over the local waterfront.

2. Fred D. Parr, with five definite prospects in his pocket, has gone on a selling tour of the east to bring new industries here.

3. It can be definitely stated that the street work necessary to the Ford Motor company will be completed within seven months. All details of the city's agreement with the Ford company are rapidly being worked out. Yes, Ford is coming to Richmond.

In all of these vital matters of community promotion the Chamber of Commerce has played an important part. It will continue to do so, because City building is its job.
